If you've forgotten your password, you may regain access to your account by logging in to your account using the email address that you used to create your account. You can also login to your account using your email address. Recovering your lost password and managing online accounts is a good thing to do before starting your job search, but it can be very time consuming. Start researching and practicing before you need to. The poor security of a computer or server's login information often results in someone being able to bypass security measures by gaining access to your account. Practice using strong passwords and enable the multi-factor authentication to prevent account compromises. In the case that our password is weak, we can try to find a better one. We can use a password generator to try different combinations. This is how a hacker like this could have access to your mailbox, send you phishing emails and collect important personal information. Unprotected email servers are the one that lead to most data breaches in the world. We need to be aware of these things when using our online accounts and start to develop strong passwords for them. The hacker could also try to access your e-mail directly. A port scan is a technique hackers use that determines whether a website is vulnerable or not. It checks which ports are open for communication, and it can discover if you are vulnerable to a type of attack known as a port scan, port scan The hacker could also look for information about your network and computers. Hackers do this through a process known as OSINT, which is short for Open Source Intelligence. These tools are available for free or for a small fee, and they can collect valuable information such as your IP address, your operating system, whether your antivirus software is up to date, and a list of your installed software packages. This information can be used to identify your devices and computers. For example, if you use a lot of command-line tools or use a web server to host websites, a hacker might try to access your computer. Sec8ef588b
