Q: PHP Session Is Not Working Correctly I've put together some code that should log the user in and redirect them to the correct URL based on whether they are an admin or not. The only problem is that when I am logged in as a Superadmin, it properly redirects me to the correct URL. When I am logged in as a regular admin, it does not redirect me to the correct URL. Does anyone see why? Also, I've noticed that there is no actual session created. I'm using the login in index.php and the redirect to admin.php. Thanks.

```
<?php if (!isset($_SESSION['loggedin'])){ // When we don't already have a session, create one if (isset($_COOKIE['admin_id'])){ $admin_id = $_COOKIE['admin_id']; } else { $admin_id = ""; } $admin_id = htmlentities($admin_id, ENT_QUOTES); $username = htmlentities($_POST['username'], ENT_QUOTES); $password = htmlentities($_POST['password'], ENT_QUOTES); $uname = mysql_real_escape_string($username); $pword = mysql_real_escape_string($password); $sql1 = "SELECT id FROM users WHERE username='$uname' AND password='$pword'"; $sql2 = "SELECT id FROM admins WHERE username='$uname' AND password='$pword'"; $result = mysql_query($sql1); $result1 = mysql_query($sql2);
